WEBSITE PROPOSAL / CLIENT 02

The next chapter.

YOUNG ADULT READING

Book discovery for the curious, the hesitant, and everyone in between.

Reading can feel like a club you’re not in.

Young adults may like stories but still feel overwhelmed, uninterested, or unsure where to begin.

01

TOO MANY CHOICES

A huge catalog can feel like homework instead of something fun.

02

NOT “A READER”

Bookish language and assumptions can unintentionally exclude beginners.

03

NO EASY START

Generic recommendations rarely connect to someone’s actual interests.

PROJECT GOAL

Make the first step toward a good book feel easy, personal, and low-pressure.

Start with what you already love.

An interest-first experience makes choosing a book feel like exploring, not studying.

01 CHOOSE A MOOD

Use friendly filters like funny, short, cozy, or surprising.

02 SEE REAL OPTIONS

Browse concise, approachable book cards without intimidating reviews.

03 START SMALL

Link to previews, library catalogs, or other approved next steps.

Illustrative launch concept

A small site with a strong first impression.

Prioritize simple discovery and a clear path to begin reading.

THE FOUR PAGE TYPES

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 01 | Home | Welcoming, interest-based starting point |
| 02 | Discover | Mood filters and featured book cards |
| 03 | Book Detail | Reusable summary and next-step links |
| 04 | Reading Starter | Friendly tips for building a reading habit |

WHAT IS INCLUDED

Responsive design • up to 18 approved book cards
Clickable mood filters • basic accessibility checks
2 feedback rounds • up to 3 requested revisions

NOT IN THE 3-WEEK LAUNCH

User accounts, algorithmic recommendations, forums, e-commerce, catalog integrations, or ongoing updates.

A clear, fixed-fee estimate.

One designer, a realistic scope, and no surprise features.
